Remember When . . .

You're really gonna eat it?

The latest step.

Don't look now!

UHHH!!! Uhhh!!!

CLASS PROPHECY

Rain pelted on the window panes of Room 228 making the dark room even more dismal than before. Through the slated blinds came eerie shadows casting the room in ominous gloom. Gathered there were seven wretched women whose names we care not to disclose. Their purpose was the fortelling of future deeds. Hence, down from the top shelf these scraggly hags took a dusty world globe and proceeded to chant weird and unusual phrases over it. Alas, before my very eyes, I say, it did take on the appearance of a crystal ball. Gathered around it, they began to open up the unknown to us. With a ghastly unhuman chuckle they began:

Ah yes, before us we see a stage in a small auditorium. There is a tall blonde dressing and undressing quickly -it seems she has several parts in a play--in a Russian Symposium -- ho, ho!! This blonde -- this PATTY GOLEC -- will be changing a lot, but not in school plays -- ho, ho!! We see that she will be the next burlesque queen. others who joined PATTY in the field of entertainment. this point, one of the witch-like creatures mutters that she hears laughter that is music to a witch's ear. It seems as though ANNE VASSEUR was hired by MGM to produce a "laugh track" for the latest Woody Allen film. Rounding out at this entertainment duo, we see a tall distinguished man. Hmm--it seems as though he's involved in the toy industry. snakes and snails!! That's BILL BASKERVILLE!! He's telling a salesman that he got his humble beginning by jumping out of MRS. GOLDIN's closets during a 20th Century Class. unusual action always terrorized the class. Hence, the idea for the toy came to him "Bill in the Box". A crack of lightning flashed for a moment suddenly illuminating the room. With this occurrence, a newscaster appeared across the crystal ball. Who should appear as the local sportscaster but BILL GALLAGHER replacing Howard Cosell. Why I'll be a frog's BILL even sounds like Cosell!! Following the Sports Report was the Weather Analysis with SUE MAYO. After spending her last year in Kosciuszko wishing Mr. McCarthy a "nice day". it seemed only appropriate that this unusual interest in weather should lead into Meteorology. Hold on!! Wait a minute!! MS. MAYO is disappearing. In her place is JIM GUILMETTE, a young man who put his loud, clear voice to good JIM is announcing a News Bulletin!! A DR. DOUG SALEY made a perfect brain extraction from Kosciuszko's Brainless Wonder, a MISS DOREEN BLAKE. He attributes his extraordinary talent to the practice obtained in extracting "apple cores". Again, the witch emits a chuckle as a second Very strange!! News Bulletin flashes across the crystal ball. This time

GUIIMETTE shows two pair of dancing feet. Fortunately, the witches cast a magic spell such that we can see that the bodies of this "happy footed" creatures are those of CAROL SHEEHAN and MAUREEN COFFEY who are "jigging" their way into international fame. After their bopping, tapping, and shuffling, they express warm thanks to MR. McCARTHY for giving them their chance for fame on a certain St. Patrick's Day. Thunder cracks for a moment. The crystal ball seems to short circuit. By the time we tune in again, the National News is on. Who should appear before the suspicious seven, but JOHN GUAL. No longer does he terrorize the AV Department at Kosciuszko. No. JOHN went to the top -- to the White House. There he bargains with Nixon for political favors. Yes, Mr. President, I will put in a new taping system if you take care of a small matter in return. Unfortunately, JOHN forgot to program the tape recorder for the appropriate erasures. Today Nixon fired GUAL. Too bad, JOHN, but you did get that favor done for DAWN SHAUGHNESSY. It seems as though DAWN, his school chum, was suffering terribly in her business. Nixon's inflationary economics have led to a severe drop in the purchase of turkeys. As a result, the SHAUGHNESSY TURKEY FARM has suffered severe financial setbacks. Don't worry, DAWN, our good President just took care of it by declaring every Tuesday National Turkey Day. The thunder and lightning have temporarily ceased. However, they have replaced themselves with high winds. Far off in the distance is heard the sound of cooing babies. Our ghastly hags frown for it seems that happy children always pain them. Accompanying the childish noises is a blushing mother. Who could this be but the former ROSANNE GIOVANETTI followed by the proud father, ERIC RUBY. The teachers at Kosciuszko were often heard to be commenting that ROSANNE and ERIC were jewels of students. Little did they know that these two would join in a cooperative venture and favor the world with many little "Rubies". The moaning of the witches continues as another happy scene appears on the face of the crystal ball. MARGE HENDRIE, daintily dressed in white, happily walks down the marriage aisle. We all knew that MARGE would have one shining moment. Little did we expect, though, that she would turn out to be a STARR.

All is not lost for the scraggly seven. A wide smile soon spread across their faces. The next scene the crystal ball shows is one with a lonely bedraggled monk tending the oat fields. It seems as though the monk is our own dear ERNEST BOWMAN, who, within a five-year period was jilted by twelve women and denied by nine. This traumatic experience left him so shaken that he is often heard mumbling "many thanks, I'll make a note of that." Sad... actually pathetic!! I guess those "swooping lessons" never helped!! The violent rains are beginning to let off, as a new scene appears on the crystal ball. Oh no, the clear sphere is focusing in on our own dear

Kosciuszko -- specifically Room 223 where strange noises are heard in the corridor. Oh no, it sounds like "you turkeys" !! Why, I'll be a "possum's gizzard", it's LINDA SANTANDREA following in the footsteps of "Moldy-Oldy". At least LINDA seems to be returning "those papers" within a week's time. Scarey:: There have been other changes at the "BIG K" -- such as the introduction of a new course taught by a MRS. NANCY OLSON. The course is entitled "Perfect Posture Makes Perfect Personalities". Her friends say that NANCY has been working on this course for years. The other interesting addition to our old alma mater, chant the witches, is the latest best seller. The book entitled "101 Excuses For All Occasions", which was written by our own STACY LAVERTU, who gives a free copy to all incoming 7th Graders. STACY always was thoughtful! Just as the crystal ball is fogging out on Kosciuszko, we glimpse at TOM MULCAHY who is wishing his gym students a fond farewell. seems as if TOM'S dream has come true. He's made it in the Big League. The Red Sox finally recognized his talent and signed him on -- that is as a "bat boy". Bat'em up, TOM! The clouds are breaking, gray light is beginning to peep into Room 228. The weird sisters are becoming a bit uneasy as they peer into the sphere for the last time. Amidst much incense and strange chants, we find the former JAY D'ALEO. With the passing of time, he repented for those Christmas misdemeanors and found his true vocation. FR. D'ALEO, now stationed in the Orient finds great comfort in the chants taught to him by MR. MESSANA years ago. Before leaving for the Far East, FR. D'ALEO spent considerable time counseling a former classmate, a ROBERT PLISZKA. It seems as though BOB took his stereo, his albums and a few Chagall prints out into the wilderness -never to return. The only visitor he permits to enter his log cabin is a VALERIE GAINES. She passes through in her Winnebago as she travels around the country.

Alas, the storm has ceased. Sunshine floods the room causing the seven witches to groan and moan. In a fit of distemper, they refuse to fortell the future for the remainder of our classmates. I'm confident, though, that the future will be bright and happy for the Class of "77.

CLASS WILL

On a cold wintery afternoon in late February, Room 223 finds itself bursting with 9th Graders -- some of them serving detentions, some of them hunting for material on the Russian Czars, and some to write their last will and testament. In this hallowed school, the following testaments were recorded for posterity.

We, the Freshman Class of Kosciuszko Junior High, leave to the Cafeteria Cooks a new cookbook.

I, Darlene Bower, leave to Mr. Lepore all my inner feelings and would like to wish him a very happy life.

We, Kathy Richardson, Sheryl Wild, Carol Andrews, and Sue Jensen, leave Mr. Muise a book of proper ways to construct a newspaper.

I, David Royce, being of sound mind and body, do hereby bequeath my acting talent to Mr. Dlugosz in memory of all the plays we shared.

We, the Freshman Basketball Team, being of sound body, as our record will prove, leave our basketball talents to the 8th Grade and Mr. Joly.

We, the Algebra II class of Eric Ruby, Steve DelMarco, John Gual, Doreen Blake, etc., leave to Mr. Ziemnicki the following spiral assignment -- 92/2, 4, 6 odd, 244/7-24 none, 377/4 use coordinate pairs on this page to draw a banana tree. Prove that the formula V=3.14 r  $^2$ h will find the area of your shoelace given that  $3.14 \neq approximately 3.14$  or  $\frac{22}{7}$ .

- I, Dawn Shaughnessy, leave 3 boxes of White Owl Cigars to Mr. McCarthy.
- I, Lynn Borowski, leave to any 8th Grader my unusual talents of being late to homeroom.
- I, Eric Ruby, leave to Mrs. Jorge one paramecium balancing an agar cube on its head.

We, Jim Bialobreski and Chris Rackliffe, the fullbacks of the Soccer Team, leave Mr. Wilk our skills.

We, Ann Scavotto and Joan Allevo, leave Mrs. Higley a life time of happiness and lots of luck.

We, Thea Ziemnicki and Dawn Shaughnessy, leave our neighbor, Mr. Mantenuto, absolutely nothing because he has everything.

Joyce leaves the symptons of craziness to Marie.

- I, Joyce Morin, leave Mr. Meyers a book of compliments.
- I, Carol Andrews, leave Mrs. Thompson one easy French Reader and one French Dictionary.
- I, Judy Miller, leave Mr. Dlugosz one note for February 8th.

We, Cathy Griffith and Sandy Ryder, leave to Mr. Michael one hit recording of "Meters and Liters".

I, Andrea Stein, leave Ms. Goldin with this proverb: Teacher-A fool can ask more questions than a wise man can answer. Student--No wonder we always flunk your tests. To Mr. Messana; I leave a matching shirt and tie. To Mr. Ziemnicki: I would like to compliment you on your uncomplimentary job of always giving us more than enough math paper. So I am leaving you a 10-year supply of math paper. Also, I would like to leave you a slide rule for those messy problems. And last, I leave to Miss Block el hombre who will keep Josefina up.

Joyce Morin, Keely Smith, Sandy Hayduski, and Kathy Bala leave Mrs. Higley a welcome-back party and a warm smile pin.

Joyce Morin and Judy Nai leave Mrs. Magnuson a silent study.

- I, Eileen O'Hara, leave to the Polish Mr. Joly, some of my jolly Irish personality.
- I, Don Bourgoine, leave my Army coat to any one that can fill it.
- I, Darlene Bowers, leave to Mr. Boucher all the test grades higher than Bob Regan's.
- I, Rhonda Goodrow, leave my nickname "Big Red" to any 8th Grader who can "measure" up.
- I, Melanie Jennings, leave Mr. McCarthy a Women's Liberation Encyclopedia.

- Cheryl R., Doreen V., Kim S., leave Mr. Shear a polka dot tie, striped shirt, and plaid suit coat to match his pink argyles.
- I, Valerie Gaines, leave to Mr. Bowman my Auntie Jeris!!
- I, Carol Andrews, leave Mrs. Jorge my Planarium "Hebert Horatio Smith" with the hope that she will give it a good home in a petrie dish.
- I, Victor Miko, leave Mr. Pothul one ink point pen which I broke.
- We, the Morin sisters, leave Mr. Giatrakis our excuses for being late for homeroom.
- We, "Aurora", "Queta", "Felisa", leave one pair of flatsoled, brown penny loafers to La Senorita Block so that she won't ruin her feet completely::
- Miss Davis leaves her 9th Grade Class some energy and one particular table, lessons in clean-up.
- I, Rosanne Giovanetti, leave to Mr. Michaels one dozen powdered doughnuts, one puff basketball, and a half of a ham, cheese, and lettuce sandwich.
- I, Lora Nohmy, leave Mr. Mazur my dissected worm and frog and my biology notebook.
- We, Joyce Morin, Laurie Fiore, Marie Arre, and Beth Staples, leave Mr. Milionis a piece of yellow paper with a gold star in the corner of it.
- I, Dan Myers, leave Mr. Dick a pound of coffee.
- I, Kathy Hardy, leave Mr. Mazur one poke.
- I, Cindy Culver, being of sound mind and bruised skin, leave my field hockey stick to the next right wing to chop weeds with.
- I, Michelle Midyette, leave Mr. Michaels the top 20 jokes to anyone who can handle them. P.S. Good Luck!!
- I, Felisa Wasileski, leave Miss Block a new copy of "Easy Spanish Reader".

- I, Mr. Messana, being of sound mind, do leave Ms. Goldin one gold-plated "goopy".
- I, Holly DeKam, being of damp eyes, do hereby bequeath to Tracy Kosky my talent for quick and lasting tears.
- To his Cultural Geography Classes, Mr. Messana leaves one pair of yellow-tinted glasses and a mustache to be divided equally 83 ways.
- I, David Royce, being of sound mind and body, leave all my knowledge of Russian Czars (which is nothing) to Mrs. Goldin.
- I, Darlene Bower, leave Mr. McCarthy a pair of white Bobby Orr figure skates with pom-poms in his two favorite colors (Training Wheels Included).
- I, Sue Jensen, leave Mr. Dlugosz a Library Pass.
- I, Raven Gamache, leave Mr. VanHeynigen in charge of my "love life".
- I, Cathy "Lupe" Richardson, leave all the future students of Miss Block, my wonderful accent.
- I, Lora Nohmy, leave to Miss Block my Spanish vocabulary sheets, starting with C.S. 1 to Ninth Grade.
- We, the Freshman members of the Band, having musical minds, leave to Mr. Crochiere and the future band, our ability to sight-read and respond to his musical motions.
- I, Michelle Midyette, being of musical ability, leave to Mr. Crochiere a raised elbow and 300 copies of 55 Ensembles.
- I, Cathy Lord, leave to a future student of Mr. McCarthy's my excellent ability of speaking out in class.
- I, Judy Nai, leave Mrs. Shippee my broken paint brushes.
- Joanne and Marie leave Mr. McCarthy the words "bingo" and "knock 'em off".
- I, J.A., leave the janitor my broken locker which I have asked to be fixed a thousand times since January.
- I, Dawn Langdon, leave to Mrs. Jorge a 10 cc cube with 2 layers of yellow and black missino.

I, Kathy MacInnis, being of even temperment and Irish disposition, leave three wilted shamrocks and a scratched copy of "When Irish Eyes Smiling" to the leprechaun in Room 226.

"The Fiddler on the Roof" cast, with great appreciation, leave Mr. Messana a new copy of "101 Ways to Bless the Czar".

We, the Chorus of 9th Grade, do generously leave Mr. Locke a hummingbird to further his melodious studies.

We, the 9th Grade Class, leave to Kosciuszko an unscratched copy of the "Star Spangled Banner".

Marie Arre, Joyce Morin, Tony Arre, Joanne Morin, Keely Smith, Julie Greco, and Adeline Cimino leave to Mr. Kozaczka three empty wine bottles from Mama Leone's in New York.

- I, John Gual, leave Mrs. Goldin three 16 mm's, a filmstrip projector, and a partridge on a T.V.
- I, Marci Secondo, leave Mr. McCarthy a new pencil to take attendance with. I also leave my big mouth at sports events to the students at Kosciuszko.
- I, Ann Scavotto, leave my geography notebook filled with doodles to Mr. McCarthy.
- I, Mary Henry, leave a new paper cutter to Mrs. Hurley because the work on the yearbook dulled the old one. I also leave to Mrs. Coombs and Mrs. Millett, the School Nurses, some brand new forms for eyes, ears, and accidents.
- I, Cheryl Wenc, leave any 8th Grade girl to Mr. Bowman.
- I, Anne Vasseur, leave any 8th Grader my lady-like laugh!!
- I, Marge Hendrie, leave John Gual a pair of binoculars to observe any lost Cultural Geography "streakers" and finally,

We, the Class of '77, leave Kosciuszko a little brighter, a little happier, and a great deal more thankful for those who helped us on our way.
